

Seminar offer for „ How does communication really work?“

by Dirk Käser M.A.

goal:

All too often, people ask why the communication not really wants to develop and succeed.

Responses like "I did not say it THAT way" can be triggered for massive conflicts.

The seminar offers a theoretical and practical insight into the human communication, also by pointing to hot spots.

It provides for the participants the ability to communicate credibly and constructively.

Although misunderstandings cannot be eliminated completely, neither if we have the active or passive part, but we can reduce them much.

You will be seen as a professional communicator, in business and privately
